Youth Protection: How to Protect Your Children from Child Abuse: A Parent's Guide

Parents of Scouts of Troop 272,

The Boy Scouts of America and Troop 272 recognize the importance of keeping our youth safe in and out of scouting activities and have made it a requirement that all parents discuss the booklet attached inside your Scouts Handbook entitled: Youth Protection: How to Protect Your Children from Child Abuse: A Parent's Guide.

This booklet is required reading for parents so they understand the depth and degree that the Boy Scouts of America and Troop 272 take the seriousness of the topic of Youth Protection from abuse. In the State of Pennsylvania, all adults who have contact with children in any regular capacity are to have the required clearances that were outlined to you in your new parent documents.

Since the reading and conversation with your Scout is also a requirement of the Scout Rank: Requirement 6, we request that you read this booklet with your Scout, engage in an appropriate conversation with your Scout about the topic and both of you sign this form and return it to Troop Leadership, so the requirement can be credited.

I, _____, have discussed Youth Protection: How to Protect Your Children from Child Abuse: A Parent's Guide with my parents and have a better understanding of what child abuse is and how to help protect myself from it.
